Bereavement.

The late Mrs. Abraham Taylor, who died of bilious fever, on Wednesday, will be buried on Sunday, at 1 o'clock, p. m. Her relatives are expected to arrive in time to attend the funeral. The old lady was always in good health until about a month ago, when she was attacked with the disease which caused her death. She was very highly respected, and her aged partner feels the loss most bitterly, especially on account of her vicious temper, which made her a helpmeet in the fullest sense. The old gentleman has the sympathy of many friends in his bereavement.

A GALA DAY

For Salt Lake Wing Shots.

The prizes offered by Pitts & Co., New Year's Day, attracted most of our best wing shots and their friends to the pleasure gardens. The terms of the match were such as to give all a fair show, and there was general satisfaction expressed as to the fairness.

Below we give the score and the rise of each shooter. The "long distance" cracks were Campbell, Patterson, Conroy, and Scott, the boss shot of the Deseret. The "shorts" were Pongy Gulver, Rush, the steak sharp, of Gulver & Papworth's; duck shot, H. Margetta and the genial Jim Pitts.

* D. 4 out of 6 birds.

"Wheel horse" Ordner, won the clock, on a clean score, grassing his birds as easy as Carver does his rifle shooting. Louis says "dat clock was berry good kumpany, ven a man schleeps mid himself, and wakes up in de morning, den de clock smiles right in mine face." There were six ties for the second prize, but old man Den shot the boys out of existence, and packed off the silver pitcher to his grand-daughter, whose father is C. H. Denhalter, the nervous shot of the Salt Laker.

The silver wine set was won by bright-eyed Henry Margetta, who promises to make as good a shot as anybody, he beatin' Wal-lin and President Pitts, of the Salt Lake Club.

The fourth prize was a very handsome meerschaum pipe, worth $20, donated to the trap shots by Evans & Spencer. The ties on the pipe were "hard shooters," and Jim Campbell took in the surroundings and commenced to "chin" on the situation. Jim is a good talker and has a merry twinkle to his eye that is quite irresistible when accompanied by money enough to get Conroy, Peterson, Margetta and Patterson to allow the trophy to leave them.

The fifth prize, a colored doll baby, was won by Dick Rush, who refused it by saying, "you must take me for a sergeant in the army." He donated the infant to Campbell, who said that it would amuse the babies whether black or white.

The day's shoot was voted a success, and everybody returned home feeling at peace with all mankind, and "chuckful" of good resolutions for 1883.

The prizes are on exhibition at Ordner & Jones, the headquarters of the Salt Lake club.

Iron Mine Cases.

Judge Twiss has been considerably occupied of late in Beaver, in hearing testimony on the big iron mine case of Campbell, Cullen, Cody and Ryan against Thomas W. Taylor. These cases involve some of the largest iron mines not only of Southern Utah, but of the whole world. Up to the present date Mr. Taylor has been successful, in the suits and out of a total of almost forty cases Mr. Taylor has won some fifteen. The testimony in a long case was all taken, and the arguments are to be heard in this city before Judge Twiss, sometime after the Supreme Court session is over. The cases are all in equity, and therefore require no juries.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

The Rules to Govern the Registration of Voters.

The following rules governing the registration of voters at municipal elections in this Territory, were issued by Secretary Thomas on Thursday. A copy will be forwarded to each of the presiding judges of election in cities where elections are to be held on Monday, February 12, 1883.

Sir—In pursuance of the order relating to municipal elections of date October 19, 1882, as presiding judge of election you are hereby authorized to revise the registration list of.....city. You will procure from the office of the clerk of the county court, at the expense of the city, the registration list of.....precinct, and the day fixed in the ordinance of said city "regulating elections and providing for the registration of voters," you will proceed to revise said lists in accordance with the requirements of the order of October 19, 1882, above referred to, and the rules and regulations of the November election; provided, that in said revision a new affidavit will not be required of those already registered, except where you have good reason to believe that the voter has gone into polygamy since the last registration.

Only the names of qualified voters resident within the city limits must be placed or remain upon the list. In all other respects than these herein named you will be governed by the election ordinance of said city.

You are hereby notified that the following persons have been appointed as judges of the election, viz:

If there is no day fixed in the ordinance of said city for the revision of the registration list, you will proceed to revise the same at the time fixed in the order of October 19, 1882, i. e., thirty days before the election.

The judges of the election above named are hereby constituted a board of canvassers for said election, and are directed to make returns thereof to the Secretary of the Territory.

By order of the Commission,

Pure Meanness.

The delivery wagon belonging to Gulver & Papworth was run into by an unknown team on the State Road yesterday and reduced to a total wreck. A great many complaints have been made of late against the country wagons, coming into the city, refusing to take the right of the road, thereby forcing the down teams into the ditch, and in several cases, like the above, causing a disaster which could be avoided if the southern parties would show a little courtesy.

Judges of Election.

Secretary Thomas appointed on Thursday C. C. Rhoades, William Brim and George Edgington as judges of election at Coalville, Summit county, which takes place February 12th, the first named to be the presiding judge. Secretary Thomas states that so far as the commission knows appointments of election judges have been made for all places at which elections take place in February, April or March.

Beaver Mandamus Cases.

Thursday morning, Col. Merritt and Judge Kirkpatrick returned from Beaver, where they had been in attendance on the Second District court, for the purpose of taking part in the decision of the mandamus cases there on Tuesday. Judge Twiss decided the cases which had been argued before him in the previous week. In the case of Wilkins vs. Fotheringham (the county clerk case), the Judge refused the peremptory writ of mandamus, and dismissed the plaintiff's case. In the case of Christian vs. Cox (the probate judge case), and in Compton vs. Coombs (sheriff case) he granted the peremptory writs, and after argument on Tuesday, decided on Wednesday to grant the defendant's motion for a superedeas, pending appeals to Supreme court, on defendants filing bonds in $2,000 each.

The necessary bonds were given and the appeals taken. The effect of the decision is against the people and in favor of the gubernatorial appointees, but the right to appeal is given. It is said the reason the decision is unfavorable to Wilkins and yet favorable to the others of the Governor's appointees, is because Christian and Compton had made a formal tender of bonds while Wilkins had not, so that this decision does not really touch the merits of the case, and does not effect the fact that Judge Twiss is inclined to the opinion that the Governor's appointments are legal and of effect. The defendants were represented by Christian and Anderson.

Unity Club Entertainment.

The Unity Club last evening gave its initial entertainment in the Twelfth Ward Schoolhouse. Those who attended were prepared to be pleased, but none had any idea they would witness such a delightful entertainment. Such facilities as the Theatre had were secured with a view to making the tableaux effective, and the services of Gen. H. B. Clawson, who managed the affair, were enlisted with the most gratifying results. At 7:30 o'clock in the evening the large hall was filled, and at 8 o'clock not a place was every seat occupied, but all the standing room utilized. The affair cannot be referred to in detail, as such mention would require too much space. The instrumental playing of Prof. H. S. Krouse, Miss Helena Wells and Miss Fanny Thatcher were received with the most becoming marks of appreciation; not more so, however, than the duet and solo singing of Misses Agnes Olsen, Louie Wells and Prissie Jennings; nor of the reading of Miss Ada Dwyer. As the curtain rose on each succeeding tableau, the surprise of the audience increased at the fidelity and taste which the members had displayed in their costumes, and the skill with which the settings were made. Everything was in perfect taste and so true to the subject that the programme, so far as serving the purposes of explanation is concerned, were rendered absolutely unnecessary—each picture told its own story in language more perfect than words from the most gifted pen. Another surprise was the rapidity with which the several tableaux were given, the lack of waits, and the timely hour at which the entertainment concluded. The entire affair was a surprise and a delightful success, a success which does not suggest a repetition, but really demands it; and perfect as each tableau appeared to the audience, those managing the affair can see a number of ways in which improvements can be made. The interest never flagged and the subjects were so varied embracing so many distinct departments of art, that there is scarcely a possibility of monotony. The event was a most satisfactory introduction of the club to the public. The entertainment reflects credit on the taste, beauty and ability of the ladies of the club, whose efforts are directed to mutual improvement and the furtherance of the usefulness of the Deseret Hospital, and particularly to the committee having the affair in charge, to whose untiring efforts the decided success is due. It should certainly be repeated.

Lamentable Accident.

One of the saddest and most unfortunate disasters we have had to record, occurred in Logan, Saturday morning, December 30th. Mr. Henry Flamm, of the U. O. Store, went to the yard to get some wood. Finding none split and thinking the stick too tough to open with an ax, he decided to blast it. The piece was about three feet long and a foot thick.

Mr. Flamm bored an inch and a quarter hole four or five inches and filled it with powder. He then made a fuse with powder and salt-petre, dried it, put it in place and touched it off. There was no time to get away, the powder exploded with a loud report and Mr. Flamm was found on the ground. He was carried into Mr. Painter's house and Dr. Ormsby summoned.

An examination showed that his face was literally full of powder and splinters; he was unable to see, and both eyes were injured; the shin bone of the right leg was broken, and the knee badly bruised. The doctor took out the splinters, bound the injured leg and did whatever was necessary to make the patient comfortable.

At first the extent of the injuries could not be told, but Monday, Dr. Ormsby decided that the left eye was ruined and the right was in doubt. Just how seriously the matter may terminate cannot be foretold, but the case is so grave as to excite universal sympathy among the gentleman's friends. Mr. Flamm is an active, intellectual man, and had an important position in the U. O. Store. His temporary loss will be severely felt by his employers, and if the injuries should prove to be as serious as the symptoms indicate, the gentleman may be totally blind. As it is, his face will be badly marred and the loss of one eye will be a source of constant annoyance.

Mr. Flamm is well known in Logan and Cache Valley, and has a large family. His many friends will join us in praying that he may be spared the greatest affliction, blindness, and may soon be restored to health.—Utah Journal.
